(e) ENTREPRENEURSHIP AWARDS

An Influential Gala

THROUGH THE SUCCESS OF ENTREPRENEURS

In recent years, entrepreneurship has been the subject of a surprising number of initiatives, events and speeches, many of which are aimed at young people.

This phenomenon is spreading in a large number of social, educational and professional spheres. This affects a growing diversity of young people, whether they are without a diploma, in primary or secondary school, in vocational training centers, at university, in a major engineering or management school or involved in the sector. associative and cultural.

The entrepreneurial landscape in the youth sector takes on the multiple colors of the current autumn: relayed with enthusiasm by the media world, the landscape is magnificent in its diversity in its entirety, but very difficult to decipher if we start to look at it. closer !

This entrepreneurial world, sometimes presented as the enchanting world of self-realization, of the creation of one's own professional activity, free from salary constraints and an employer, this world in which everything is possible because opportunities are to be taken for those who knows how to be a little smart, this world of start-ups and digital, this world open to the world, hyperconnected which accelerates the change of people and organizations, this world which gives hope to the most socially disadvantaged young people, this world which generates a set of transformations in relationships with education and work, favoring the exacerbation of liberal values of freedom but also of individual success and private enterprise.

This world of entrepreneurship fascinates and questions at the same time, because it reflects today's world!

ALEJANDRO AGAG

Portrait of the God Father of our Gala

He is not just a successful entrepreneur, he is also a committed man, like many of us.

Today and following this tragic period of COVID, he realized how precious the planet is and to what extent it absolutely must be preserved and protected.

Sport can play an important role in helping people better understand the message of what is happening on our planet.

This sporting competition of electric racing cars firstly highlights sport with its team spirit. Without forgetting the unique character of the Grand Prix in Monaco, at the summit of the International Automobile Federation (FIA) whose ePrix appears alongside its counterparts. This only enhances and shapes a model of excellence in the image of the Principality, as Mr. Michel Boeri, President of the ACM, puts it so well.

Formula E and the Eseries include races undertaken by highlighting:

Environmental protection
by highlighting gender parity

- without forgetting the commitment of this competition to humanitarian causes

These are the reasons why LE (e) ENTREPRENERSHIP AWARDS is so keen to join this adventure which is above all a beautiful human adventure

A Gala of influence through the success of Entrepreneurs

Formula E and the E series:

Alejandro Agag thinks the world is finally ready to listen. Pioneer of sustainable motorsport, Alejandro Agag takes stock after the first rounds of Extreme E and after long months of a health crisis which accelerated the transformation of the championships.

“The world is finally ready to listen and enjoy a sporting competition of electric racing cars. We must make protecting our planet a priority”

“I feel relieved because there were many challenges and many risks, and many things could have gone wrong. And we managed to overcome most of them.”

& CEO Formula E

The cars don't make that much noise, go slower than other racing cars, why do people watch because it's the future, it's new technology, it's exciting and people need of that and I think the response has been fantastic. Formula E is a race that will become more and more popular and appreciated so join us.
