

EMILIE VILLA

SEASON
2023

My passion for motorsport began at an early age. It starts, on Sundays, in the living room alongside my father in front of the F1 broadcast.

Motor racing is a family addiction dating back several generations before I got my seat behind the wheel of a racing car.

Drivers from father to daughter, I want to perpetuate this love of speed and podiums.

Driving a Formula 4 and a JS2 R I started training intensively with my personal coach. These trainings allowed me to prepare myself as well as possible for the competition. The objective now is to position myself on the 1st place of the podiums during the Grands Prix which will take place throughout the season, and of course, to finish champion of the championship.

The GT4 European Series is a perfect stepping stone towards GT3 for talented drivers, while it also offers amateur competitors a chance to race on some of the best tracks in Europe.

Drawing upon almost 30 years of experience, including more than a decade with GT4 cars, SRO conducts the Balance of Performance (BoP) of the GT4 European Series in order to ensure fair championship battles for all brands involved. Increased manufacturer interest in recent years has resulted in a wide range of cars that are eligible to race in the GT4 European Series.

For the GT4 European Series, SRO Motorsports Group followed the same principles that have made high-profile championships (like the Fanatec GT World Challenge powered by AWS) so successful., technical fairness, dynamic races featuring professional and amateur racers, convenient locations and a friendly paddock atmosphere. The organisation can count on extensive knowledge and enjoys approval by the FIA as an International Series.

The GT4 European Series will be featured on Fanatec GT World Challenge Powered by AWS weekends this season, ensuring top tier tracks and strong media coverage.

My entry into this championship is a big step in my journey to become a professional driver

BECOME A PARTNER

INCREASE YOUR VISIBILITY

By team of two pilots, we will be the first and only 100% female team!

supported by Aston Martin racing, FFSA GT & Pirelli, GT4 European series Championship benefits from the interest generated by the Formula 1 & GT fans. A true vector of image and notoriety, motorsport is the best way to promote your company, to unite your partners or expose yourself to attract new customers.

In addition, we are very present on social networks (More than 15k on Instagram). Your image will be shared with all our subscribers. Followed by several production companies, promotional videos will be made during the season with the equipment bearing your logo.

SUPPORT

The only female team on the track & a young athlete to achieve her goals by supporting her career to the highest level and by making her become the first female champion.

I am willing to represent women in motorsport who are under represented and treated as not being equal to men

I am also willing to represent the LGBT population, who still suffers too often of homophobic behavior in sport.

BY SUPPORTING ME, YOU ARE ALSO SUPPORTING AN LGBT WOMAN WHO WILL BREAK STEREOTYPES.
